

GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND, who was imported into St. Louis from the east a few months ago, to take editorial charge of the Times, of that city, has left in disgust for Washington, on account of the troubled condition of that paper's financial affairs. It is to be regretted that he did not remain at the head of that journal. It would have been in accordance with "the eternal fitness of things" that the champion of America and the boss drinker of all the quill-drivers should be the master spirit of a Democratic newspaper.

THE Scientific American pronounces the Kelley motor a transparent deception; the chief purpose of which appears to be the wriggling of money out of silly people, numbers of whom are found to invest in it—just as they do in lottery tickets—hoping to win. The authority is inclined to think the motor a veritable perpetual humbug. Meantime the advocates of the motor continue to say, "Wait and see."

THE Supreme Court has decided that in condemning land for highways, the whole amount of the land must be appraised and paid for, and that no set-off for benefits to the original land owner can be allowed. This is an important decision, settling the principle that in condemning land for public purposes the full value of the land must be paid the owner. This principle is embodied in the constitution, but is often violated by local boards.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says:—"The members of the Cotton exchange in New York have been bitten by the enterprise of a New York correspondent. He read in a Savannah paper, the other day, an editorial statement that almost the entire cotton crop of the South would this year, prove a failure. He took this editorial and telegraphed it from this city as an official statement from the best of authorities in relation to the coming cotton crop. The members of the New York Cotton exchange took to speculating upon this information, and lost very heavily. It appears that the editor of the Savannah paper is in a ring to "bull" cotton, and the correspondent here was his victim. The members of the Cotton exchange in New York are very indignant at their losses, and have openly accused the suffering correspondent of being in a ring to plunder them. The agricultural department has information in relation to the cotton crop, which shows that the yield is to be a very good one."

It is said that Secretary Bristow has determined to not tear down the walls of the Chicago custom house; he is unwilling to take the responsibility and incur the wrath of Chicagoans. The commission pronounced the foundation rotten, and say that it must be taken down. The following, in substance, is the report of the commissioners appointed by Secretary Bristow:

After a careful examination of the building and material of which it is constructed and the stone underlying the sight, serious cracks were discovered in the walls, the stones having rotted. The concrete foundation is badly cracked; some of the columns are deflected, the stones not having been set with accuracy. The lay of the foundation is of a soft character, and nearly equivalent to quicksand, and would not support a man's weight. A diagram accompanying the report, illustrating in full the condition of the building as far as now completed.

From the report of the bureau of statistics for April, it appears that there has been a considerable falling off of both imports and exports for the past two months, as compared with the corresponding period of the fiscal year 1874. The latter included July, August and September, before the panic. During the period named it seems that the importations of coffee were $3,000,000 less, and of tea $1,000,000 more. In the article of hides and skins we have increased both our imports and exports, just doubling the latter. In raw silk there has been a slight increase, and a corresponding one in silk manufactures imported. The importation of metals has largely diminished of iron and steel and their manufactures $12,500,000, or nearly 15 per cent. The exports of these articles, on the other hand, have increased 33 per cent, and equal seven-eighths of the imports. Wool and its manufactures show a slight increase, its exports the most notable items of decrease are in breadstuffs, oil and tobacco, and the most remarkable instance of increase is in gold.

21st ILLINOIS REGIMENT.

Reunion at Paris, Illinois, Oct., 21st 1876.

At a meeting of a number of the late members of the 21st Illinois Volunteer Infantry, held at Mattoon, Ill., on the 17th inst., it was resolved to hold a reunion at Paris, Edgar county, Ill., on the 21st day of October, 1876. The following committees were appointed.

Committee of Arrangements.—Company F of Edgar County.

Executive Committee.—W. E. McMaikin, Salem, Chairman; Chas. Fuller, Decatur; Philip Welshimer, Noogo; A. S. Lindsay, Tazewell; W. H. Jamison, Mattoon; G. W. Lynn, Mattoon; J. Rosell, Paris; A. W. Souger, Kinmundy; Harrison Black, Martinsville; Joel Cox, Altamont; Isaac Shupp, Newton; J. W. Vance, Paris, Corresponding Secretary.

C. B. STEEL, CHAIRMAN.

CHAS. HOLMSTROM, Secretary.

We ask it as a particular favor that all of our readers who had friends and comrades in this regiment to make the above known by letter, to them, if they are not now in hailing distance, as it is the earnest desire that it shall be a grand success. It being the regiment that General Grant led to the field, there is no doubt whatever but that he will be present.

And now let every member of the old regiment constitute a committee of one to see that all his comrades acquaintances are notified, and present, and we will promise that the home of the brave and noble Alexander will give them a welcome worthy of the occasion.—Tazewell Journal.

GRASSHOPPERS IN BLOOMINGTON.

Bloomington Paragraph, 26th.

The latest arrival in the city is a delegation of that celebrated tribe, the Kansas grasshoppers. They claim that their western reservation will no longer afford their rapidly increasing numbers a decent subsistence, and are on their way to Washington to see the Great Father about new territory and supplies. They arrived yesterday about noon and quartered themselves at once in Clark's "Pom's" back-yard. They had evidently traveled far and were hungry, for they at once fell to eating. Mr. Toms invited a number of his friends in to make the acquaintance of his distinguished guests. Among them were those who had met members of this tribe in the West, and recognized those at once as the same genuine Kansas grasshoppers. The delegation is a large one, everything in the yard seems to be alive with them. A lot of sunflowers which stood in the yard seemed especially to please them, and they soon riddled their leaves, after which they took positions on the fence and picked their teeth with astonishing complacency. Where they came from, and why they should favor Mr. Toms with their presence, are questions unanswerable. We do not wish Mr. Toms any unenviable notoriety but we should not be surprised if half the city called upon him to-day. It is a homely old saying, "every dog must have his day" and ours for the grasshopper plague, perhaps has arrived.

THE BRIDGES OF THE WEST.

Nothing excels in wonder the bridge system of the West, all built up since the war. The Missouri is bridged at St. Charles (3,535 feet long) Boonville, Kansas City, Leavenworth, Atchison, St. Joseph, (81,000,000) and Omaha. The cost of these bridges was about $11,000,000 or $3,000,000 less than the single bridge and approaches at St. Louis. The Ohio is bridged eight times below Pittsburgh at a cost of $16,000,000. The Mississippi is bridged at St. Louis, Louisiana, Hannibal, Keokuk, Burlington, Clinton, Dubuque, Winona, La Crosse, St. Paul and other places at a cost of $25,000,000. An engineer said a few days ago that the bridges of the United States built since the war had cost $150,000,000. The great bridges at Saybrook, Albany, Havre de Grace and Buffalo do not bear comparison with the bridge system of the West.

We have it upon the authority of the New York  Herald's  Long Branch correspondent, that the President declined to be present at the recent Bunker Hill festivities, for the reason that he resents the discussion that took place in New England as to the bills incurred by himself and his party when they attended the celebration of the battle of Lexington. The President felt that this discussion on the part of the local authorities in New England was an offense of the gravest character, the insult of a host to a guest. The President visited New England at the invitation of the authorities. He was not allowed to incur any expense or to bear any portion of this entertainment. Yet as soon as he returned he found that the bill for his entertainment had been made matters of discussion, and that questions had been asked as to whether the President party should or should not drink wine, or should or should not smoke cigars, that the amount of wine charged in the bill had been a matter of management and reproach, and that one of the committee went so far as to publicly express his alarm lest the habits of President Grant should lead him into an unusual and painful condition of life. The Herald observes, very properly, that while the authorities who had hold of the Bunker Hill business can hardly be held responsible for the bores and indecency of those who had charge of the Lexington affair, the President may nevertheless very well be pardoned for hesitating about putting himself in a position to incur a repetition of the affront.

[Special Dispatch.]

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 26.—In the case of Rachel A. Knox vs. Allen T. Knox, a decree of divorce was obtained for the complainant, and the custody of the children was awarded her.

A young man about twenty years of age, a farmer's son, met with a serious accident on his way to town with a load of vegetables. On getting down from the wagon he was kicked by one of the horses in the forehead, just above the eyes, fracturing the bones of the nose and front part of the head, so that the brain is exposed. He was carried for by Dr. Hill, assisted by Dr. Stahl, who pronounced his chances for recovery very doubtful.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 26.—Arrangements for the Sengstack, which will be held in this city on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, have been perfected, and the success of the festival is assured. The music which is to be sung by the full chorus has been in the hands of all the singing societies which will participate a sufficient length of time for them to have become so perfect in its execution as to require only one general rehearsal to enable them to work together smoothly and harmoniously. The orchestra engaged for the occasion is from Chicago, and consists of thirty-five pieces. It is said to be very efficient.

The programme heretofore given in these dispatches will be carried out: Reception concert on Monday evening, on Tuesday, general rehearsal, and a meeting for the purpose of organizing a State Sanatorium, excursion to Oak Ridge Park and Cemetery, and in the evening the grand concert, in which all societies present will take part; on Wednesday, a procession consisting of the Governor's Guards, as escort, all the singing societies, and several civic societies, which will proceed to Kuydell's Brewery Park, where a concert will be given in the afternoon. The festivities will conclude with two balls in the evening, the principal one at the Armory, the other at Kuydell's Park.

Excursion tickets will be sold by all the railroads leading to the city, some of them at one fare and a fifth for the round trip, and some of them at less rates. Advances received from various points indicate that there will be a very large attendance.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The scandal jury is still in confinement, and guess work has settled generally, with how much accuracy cannot be tested, upon dividing them into seven for Beecher and five for Tilton. None of the efforts to get news of the jury's doings have been successful, although from houses across the street their movements have been watched through opera glasses. Occasional ballottings were thus seen, and jurors spent much of their time seemingly in discussion, but nothing more could be learned.

Upon getting out of bed this morning Mrs. Beecher had a severe attack of heart disease, and fell to the floor. She had passed an almost sleepless night, and was nervously prostrated. She revived, however, and would not be dissuaded from going to the court room, where she remained until 3 o'clock, when Judge Nelson adjourned court. The understanding then was that counsel would be advised if the jury signified their intention of coming in, and an hour's notice would precede the opening of the court.

At 9:30 o'clock this evening, the court house was closed for the night. Should the jury desire to come in to-morrow, either for instructions or to announce a hopeless disagreement, the court will be reopened. Judge Nelson says that until he receives a request from the jury to be released, he will not summon them. He thus has no idea, he says, how much longer the jury will be out. A mattress was taken into the jury room early in the evening for Foreman Carpenter to lie down on. He was worried into illness, and could not hold out any longer. Late to-night there are various rumors as to how the jury stand but all are worthless. Beecher went to Peckskill to-day, to his farm, but will return to preach to-morrow.
